

Snacking? Solved!

Beyond simple product selection, G-Snack Design is such a versatile automatic vending machine that opens up vast opportunities to customers who are interested in engaging with a solid wealth of retail possibilities. The new model, G-Snack XII, allows for flexible products assortment by favouring up to 84 selections with a 6+6 double tray: so spacious and versatile that can be considered as an automated mini convenience store open 24/7. Moreover, G-Snack Design 6 and 8 are designed to pass through narrow passages thanks to their split function which separates the main body from the payment column. The extreme versatility of this vending machine allows for accommodating a large array of F&B goods as well as...
